The Democrat says, incomes have been stagnant for five years and people are under great financial pressure, but Bush and the Republicans say the economy is great. They've done nothing about rising health care and gas prices, or jobs outsourced overseas. I'll work to get health care and gas prices down, cut middle class taxes and reward companies that create jobs here.

OR

The Republican says, our economy is strong and our tax cuts for families and businesses made this possible. Last year our economy grew faster than any industrialized nation's in the world. We created over 5 million new jobs over the last two and a half years and homeownership is at the highest level ever. The economy is moving in the right direction and none of us can afford the Democrats' new tax increases.

Q.62 (SPLIT H) Now I would like to read you a pair of statements about the economy. After I read them, please tell me which statement comes closest to your own views, even if neither is exactly right.

The Democrat says, incomes have been stagnant for five years and people are under great financial pressure, but Bush and the Republicans have only cut taxes for the wealthiest. For them, the economy is great. They've sided with the drug and oil companies who've pumped up health care and gas prices and given tax breaks for companies that outsource jobs. I'll work to get health care and gas prices down, cut middle class taxes and reward companies that create jobs here.

OR

The Republican says, our economy is strong and our tax cuts for families and businesses made this possible. Last year our economy grew faster than any industrialized nation's in the world. Q.63 (SPLIT G) Now I would like to read you a pair of statements about taxes. After I read them, please tell me which statement comes closest to your own views, even if neither is exactly right.

The Democrat says, Bush and the Republicans have made a mess of the country's finances, with spending and deficits rising out of control. This year, they cut taxes by 70 billion dollars, but the average middle class households got just 20 dollars. We must stop passing on the debts to our children and start doing what's best for the country and get our deficits under control.

OR

The Republican says, our tax cuts every year have eased the burden on businesses and working Americans and have created a strong foundation for economic growth. We must make these tax cuts permanent, but Democrats want to repeal them, which will damage our economy and increase taxes for the average family of four by nearly two thousand dollars.

The Democrat says, Republicans are united in supporting Bush's Iraq policy, which means more of the same for at least 3 more years. We are bogged down, with rising violence in the middle of a religious war, without a plan for success. We need a Congress that will exercise oversight and push for a new direction, not more of the same.

OR

The Republican says, we must finish the job our troops started in Iraq. Democrats now support a policy of cut and run in Iraq that would leave us humiliated and will turn Iraq into a launching pad for the terrorists to strike the United States. We must have the patience to succeed in Iraq, which will make America more secure.

We've completed our mission, while staying leaves us bogged down in the middle of a religious war and increases instability. We shouldn't sacrifice many more lives and dollars. It is time for America to set a timetable to leave Iraq.

The Democrat says, we need a Congress that will use its investigative powers to look at the no-bid contracts for Halliburton, how 9 billion dollars in US government cash went missing in Iraq, why our troops struggled to get body armor, and what role oil companies are playing in Iraq.

OR

The Republican says, the last thing our troops need is a bunch of congressional committees running around and second-guessing our military in Iraq. This will hurt the morale of our troops, when what they need is to concentrate on finishing the job they were sent to do.
