Q.86 Let me read you what Democrats and Republicans are saying about the budget surplus. Regardless of how you might vote, please tell me which statement you tend to agree with more.

Democrats say that our healthy budget surplus has been wiped out by President Bush's massive, unaffordable tax cut, now estimated to cost over 2 trillion dollars and targeted mostly to the wealthiest. To fund 10 years of tax cuts, President Bush has already spent the entire Medicare surplus and is taking billions of dollars from the Social Security trust fund to cover his spending priorities and tax cuts.

Republicans say President Bush's budget gives tax relief to everyone who pays taxes, which will provide a critical stimulus for the economy. His budget protects Medicare and Social Security benefits while giving taxpayers some of their hard earned money back. The budget surplus is falling because of the slowing economy and, most importantly, because of unnecessary spending by Congress.
